Governor Cox Is Re-elected--- Late Returns Give Wets Lead

OHIO DELEGATION WILL BE REPUBLICAN

Columbus, Nov. 6.—Ohio will reverse the political complexion of its congressional delegation from 13 Democrats and 9 Republicans to 9 Democrats and 13 Republicans, according to latest returns.

CONGRATULATES COX ON HIS ELECTION

At noon to-day, Willis, at his home in Delaware, telegraphed Governor Cox: "I congratulate you on your election as governor."

JAMES M. COX

Returns indicate his Re-Election as Governor.

DEPLORABLE CONDITION

Washington, Nov. 6.—An official dispatch to the Serbian legation from Saloniki said Serbian prisoners were returning home from Bulgaria in deplorable condition after three years of suffering, and that many had died en route, almost within reach of their native land. The number of prisoners had not been determined, it was stated, because of the great haste of the Bulgarian government to get them home as rapidly as possible, so Serbian military and government officials would not see the camps in which they had been living. In addition to prisoners of war, 200,000 civilians deported by the Bulgarian authorities are struggling home.

Daylight Services Only.
London, Nov. 6.—A suggestion made by Sir Albert Stanley, president of the board of trade, that all church services be held in daylight on account of the serious coal shortage, is to be adopted, it is announced, in many London churches. An exception will be made, however, in the case of Westminster Abbey.

To Help Feed Austria.
Washington, Nov. 6.—Upon recommendation of Colonel House the Versailles conference, before closing its sessions, passed a resolution favoring co-operation between the council and Austrian, Turkish and Bulgarian authorities toward supplying food and other supplies for the civilian populations of those nations.

Crowder Issues New Call.
Washington, Nov. 6.—Provost Marshal General Crowder called for 18,800 draft registrants physically qualified for limited service to enter for camps between Nov. 25 to 27. Voluntary enlistments will be accepted until Nov. 20.

REPUBLICANS GAIN SEATS IN BOTH BRANCHES

New York, Nov. 6.—Congressional election returns show a gain of eight seats in the house and at least three seats in the senate for the Republicans.

Acting Chairman Cummings of the Democratic national committee issued a statement claiming Democratic gains in both houses of congress.

Chairman Hays of the Republican national committee had not issued a statement, but said he felt sure the Republicans would control the house.

The turnovers came in New York, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Kansas, but so closely was a Democratic defeat in one district neutralized by a Republican defeat in another that the net results were very close.

The Democratic leaders in congress, Senator Simmons of North Carolina and Representative Kitchin of North Carolina, were re-elected, as were the house Republican leader, Representative Mann of Illinois, and the acting Republican leader, Representative Gillette of Massachusetts.

Former Speaker Cannon of Illinois was re-elected to what will be his twenty-second term in congress, a record of service interrupted by only two defeats.

Meyer London, the only Socialist in the house of representatives, was defeated by Representative Segel, a Republican, running with Democratic support, but the Socialists retain representation by electing Victor Berger from Wisconsin, a former member of the house.

The senatorial returns showed Representative Medill McCormick of Illinois, R., running ahead of Senator James Hamilton Lewis, D., and Henry Ford, the Detroit manufacturer, running in Michigan, behind Truman H. Newberry, former assistant secretary of the navy, the Republican candidate.

The only complete governorship returns at hand showed the Republican tickets elected in Pennsylvania and Connecticut and Governor Whitman coming down state with a heavy plurality which promised to wipe out the advantage of Alfred E. Smith, the Democratic candidate, in Greater New York.

KENTUCKY.

Louisville, Nov. 6.—The Democratic state campaign committee claims the election of A. O. Stanley over Ben L. Bruner, R., by approximately 15,000 majority. Practically complete returns from 30 out of 120 counties, few of them in the Republican districts of the state, show Stanley leading by 9,500 votes. Swager Sherley, D., chairman of the house committee on appropriations, has been defeated for re-election.

KANSAS.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 6.—Republican managers claimed the election of Governor Capper to the United States senate over Senator W. H. Thompson, D., by 100,000; Henry Allen, R., for governor, by 150,000, and Republican congressmen in six out of eight districts.

MARYLAND.

Baltimore, Nov. 6.—The Democrats swept the city in the congressional election, returning Representatives Charles P. Coady and J. Charles Linthicum, whose districts lie entirely in Baltimore, by largely increased pluralities.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Philadelphia, Nov. 6.—William C. Sproul, R., has been elected governor of Pennsylvania by a large plurality over Eugene C. Bonnell, D., some estimates placing his lead as high as 250,000.

TENNESSEE.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 6.—Indications are that Tennessee has elected two Republican and eight Democratic congressmen. John K. Shields, Democrat, will be returned to the United States senate.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 6.—Returns throughout the state point to a majority of 30,000 for the Democrats, with a solid delegation for congress and Senator Simmons leading the ticket.

REVOLT OF CROATIAN SOLDIERS HELPS SOUND MONARCHY'S KNEEL

General view of Fiume, Hungary.

The city of Fiume, principal seaport of Hungary, was abandoned by the Austrian troops recently to the Croatian troops. The Croatian parliament has voted for a total separation of Croatia, Slavonia and Dalmatia from Hungary. Fiume has been decorated with Italian flags and the residents are celebrating, it is said. Railroads used by the Austrians were destroyed.

GERMANS STILL ON THE RUN WITH FRENCH ATTACKING REAR GUARD

Paris, Nov. 6.—The French after maintaining contact with the rear guards of the retreating Germans all night, renewed their attack on the whole front this morning, it was announced by the war office.

French detachments crossed the Aisne between Bethel and Attigny, practically isolating these important towns.

On the left of the American first army, the French reached La Cassine, less than eight miles from Sedan and 11 miles from Mezieres.

"We maintained contact during the night with the enemy rear guards who, on the whole front, continue to fight while retreating," said the communiqué.

"Early this morning the progress of our troops was renewed."

"West of the Sambre canal we occupied Barzy."

"North of Marle, we passed Marfontaine and Voharies. Italian troops, co-operating with ours, have taken Le Thuel and reached the Hurtot brook, southeast of Montcornet. West of Bethel, we occupied Barby, on the north bank of the Aisne. Between Bethel and Attigny, our detachments crossed the Aisne at several points. Further to the right, we reached the outskirts of Lamez and pushed on to the outskirts of La Cassine, northeast of Lechesne."

MUST ANSWER YES OR NOW IMMEDIATELY

Paris, Nov. 6.—Germany is expected to indicate soon, perhaps tomorrow whether she will ask Marshal Foch for terms of the armistice formulated by the Versailles conference, was the belief expressed here to-day.

The Germans, it was said, must answer "yes" or "no" immediately.

WHITMAN OF NEW YORK RUNS A CLOSE RACE

New York, Nov. 6.—The vote of New York soldiers in cantonments in the United States may decide the race for governorship of New York. Returns early this morning showed Whitman, Republican and Smith almost tied. The count conducted by the Republicans shows Whitman fifteen thousand ahead, while the unofficial democratic tabulations gave Smith a lead of 1,200.

COX DEFEATS WILLIS BY A 30,000 MAJORITY

(Late Bulletins)

Democratic headquarters claim a lead of 30,000 over Ex-Governor Willis.

Columbus, Nov. 6.—Ohio has re-elected Governor Cox by about 20,000 majority over Frank B. Willis, Republican, may have voted wet for the fourth time in five years, and will send a Republican majority to congress, according to the latest returns of Tuesday's elections.

The balance of the state ticket was still in doubt and the official count may be needed to determine the next Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, treasurer of state and attorney general.

James Robinson, Republican, has been elected to succeed Judge Oscar W. Newman.

Governor Cox carried the big cities, Cleveland, by 17,000; Cincinnati, by 17,000; Columbus, by 4,000; Toledo, by 8,000; Akron by 2,500; Dayton by 1,800 and made surprising gains in various of the smaller counties.

If Governor Cox's majority falls below 20,000 indications are the Democrats have lost the balance of their state ticket. In Hamilton county over 10,000 voted the Republican ticket.

et, except Willis, whom they scratched and voted for Cox. So whereas Willis lost that county by 17,000, other Republicans on the state ticket carried it by about 5,000.

Although the result is close and victory is still claimed by both wets and dries, available returns indicate the wets have held their own in the centers of population and made gains here and there in the smaller towns.

L. H. Gibson, of Cincinnati, also claims success for the referendum amendment, reserving to the people the right to vote on the action of the legislature should it ratify the federal dry amendment.

The wets carried Hamilton county by 52,000 majority, Cuyahoga county by 30,000; lost Franklin county by about 2,800, a slight dry gain and lost Summit county by 5,000, a slight wet gain.

The selection of ten republicans and seven democrats to congress from Ohio was sure in the returns early today. Five districts were still in doubt with the probability that three are Republican. The Republicans claim all five.

Although James A. White, at Dry headquarters continues to claim "Ohio is safely dry," no figures are given out.

If official returns show the state voted wet, the fate of the federal dry amendment to come before the new legislature is much in doubt. It is believed a dry house has been elected but the senate is probably wet by a few votes.

WHEN 100 PASSENGERS WERE KILLED AND MANY INJURED IN BROOKLYN CAR ACCIDENT

Police searching ruins of cars in Brooklyn, N. Y., subway for articles to identify dead. Note one policeman has prayer book and blood-stained handkerchief.

Investigation of the accident in the subway of the Brighton Beach line of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit, which cost the lives of close to 100 persons and injured many more, is under way. A train, said to have been driven by a green motorman, left the rails on a curve in the subway and crashed into the stone wall. The train following crashed into the wreck. The wooden cars in the wrecked train crumpled and caught fire.

BIG CROWD WATCHES ELECTION BULLETINS

Much interest centered on the election returns which were thrown upon a screen in front of the Gazette building, by this paper, Friday night.

Considering that it was a cold night, and disagreeable to stand out in the open, a large crowd saw the bulletins as they came in and were flashed upon the screen.

Interest centered in the state contest for governor and prohibition, with the local fight on the awning and sidewalk ordinances, a close third.

Unfortunately, the large number of different ballots to be counted made the returns very slow, and we were not able to make any safe forecasts outside of the county issues.

Knowing that we had in the United Press special wire service all the facilities for getting the most complete reports in the shortest possible time, the crowd was very patient when a lull came, and greeted each new bulletin with enthusiasm.

REMISS AS AN ALLY

London, Nov. 6.—The British minister to China, with the concurrence of the other allied legations, has handed informally to the Chinese foreign office a memorandum concerning matters in which China is regarded as having been remiss as an ally. Among the instances mentioned are the following:

The warring in party quarrels of the Boxer indemnity remitted for the purpose of fostering industries to enable participation in the war; lack of results by the Chinese war participation bureau and the diversion of Chinese troops to civil warfare in the south; the appointment of a penal minister without consultation, creating impression of friendship with the enemy; failure to confiscate enemy property, to impose restrictions on enemy enterprises and to impose penalties for trading with enemy subjects.

REDEEMING W. S. S. PLEDGES

Promises to Buy Stamps Solemn Agreement With Government.

Columbus, O. (Special).—No alarm is felt in Ohio that all outstanding War Stamp pledges will not be redeemed this year. Redemption of pledges unpaid, estimated by the Ohio War Savings Committee at $10,000,000, will be made in the next two and one-half months, is the confident expectation.

In addition to the fact that these pledges are solemn obligations, and honor requires that they be kept, a further necessity requiring the War Savings pledges be redeemed is that the government took the word of the citizens of Ohio as an oath and has spent the millions of dollars represented by the pledges.

Discouraged Frenchmen.

A Frenchman complained that he had difficulty in learning English. He said that after he had learned to pronounce "typhoid fever" a doctor pronounced it fatal.

The Seventh Day

By JULIA RICHARDSON

David Stirling, Lieutenant-to-be, climbed the hotel steps wearily, acknowledged mechanically the greetings of the usual porch squad of people, and dropped into a chair—comfortable, but far from the madding crowd. Seven times he had repeated those motions with the same dejectedness, the same absent-minded manner, the same weary dropping into a chair.

Immediately afterward, the heads of the rocker brigade would meet, and the buzz of whispering voices arise, some sympathetic, some mildly angered. Scraps of sentences drifted to Dave's ears, such as, "Too bad! Poor fellow. It must have been her fault." "I wonder what the quarrel was about anyway." Some maintained that it was not her fault, but his fault. David tried to remember their names for future reference.

In the meantime, on this seventh day, Dave lit a cigarette and stared moodily out over the sea and sky, spread lavishly before him as if to console him with their beauty. For a time, the poetic half of his nature responded enough to isolate him from his disturbing thoughts. The sky was like turquoise, he thought, the sea like sapphire, the clouds and foam were pearls—but at this point his mind wandered to diamonds—engagements—girls—one girl in particular. And he was back again in the world of his troubles. For the seventh time Dave reviewed the chain of events. Two weeks ago he had come to spend a month at the quiet summer resort in Maine to be near Carol Thatcher, his fiancée, before he left for the Southern training camp.

The first week had been Elysium, Utopia, and heaven all combined. Every night marked the end of a perfect day. Bathing, boating, fishing, walking on soft grass or cool pine needles or luxuriant white sand, not on hot pavings or cobblestones. And then—one day he was to meet Carol in their favorite spot, a large, cleared spot in the woods called the Cathedral, with moss for carpet and straight pines and spruces for pillars. As he approached the place, he heard voices, one masculine, the other Carol's. Dave could not be seen through the thick growth of trees.

The masculine voice said, "Then I am to have the pleasure of marrying you?" Carol's laugh rang out, "You certainly are if I have my way about it, John, you old dear. Why, I've planned it for the last four years, ever since you entered, you know."

Dave did not quite understand the last sentence, but the first had been sufficient. He thought he understood that perfectly. Waiting to hear no more, he turned abruptly and made his way back to the road.

That evening a hillyboy had given him a small package and a note, the package containing Carol's diamond, the note a frigid one to Mr. Stirling, saying that his unexplained failure to keep the appointment that afternoon seemed to the writer sufficient reason for discontinuing their betrothal. "A mere alibi," muttered David. "She wants to be free for the other man, of course." Thus began his gloomy days on the porch, predated by a brisk walk or a swim every morning. Carol had been playing with him, evidently, for the sake of the good times, his companionship—and of course, the diamond. All the while for four years she had loved this other man John, curse him! Dave was through with women—absolutely!

During the week the two avoided each other persistently, a fact soon noticed and recorded in the porch annals. Carol, just to show that she did not care, flirted outrageously with young and old alike.

David left the hotel rather early, taking a longer route to avoid meeting anyone he knew. As he entered the Cathedral from one path, a figure in white entered on the opposite side. It was Carol.

"Good evening," she said coldly. "Good evening," replied David in the same tone. "Allow me to congratulate you on your coming marriage." It was the last thing he had intended to say, but in his confusion the words were spoken. Carol's eyes opened wide. "I'm sure I don't know what you mean, Mr. Stirling," she replied, trying to appear casual and indifferent. This was the first time the two had been together for a whole week—moreover the moon was shining, the setting ideal for romance. What each wanted most was to fly into each other's arms. But they had quarreled—hence the brave attempt at distant formality.

So David explained. As he explained, Carol's eyes grew happier and happier, merrier and merrier until they twinkled with laughter. "David, you goose, do you know who that was? 'John' was John Flockton, an old playmate of mine. Four years ago he entered a school of theology and now he's a full-fledged minister—just received his degree. He's stopping a few miles from here, and had motored over that day for a short call, of course. I want him to marry me, that is—marry us. Do you understand now?"

"I do," said David, happy for the first time in seven of the longest days of his life.

FESS MAJORITY WILL BE CLOSE TO 14,000 VOTES

Congressman S. D. Fess chairman of the National Republican committee, has been returned to the House as representative from the Seventh district by a majority which he fixes as approximately 14,000.

Dr. Fess said early Wednesday afternoon that he had heard from all except two counties in the district, Fayette and Clinton, and upon the returns given, he estimated his majority. He is at his home in Yellow Springs, from where he has kept in touch by telephone since Tuesday night, with the election in every important city in the country.

NEPHEW OF XENIAN KILLED IN FRANCE

Word was received Sunday by Mrs. Bernard Klein of the death of her nephew, Private John E. Luibel, a former Springfield boy, who died of wounds in France, on October 1.

While in Springfield, he was employed by the Crowell Publishing Company. Private Klein enlisted in Springfield and entered the service on May 31, 1917, and was in Co. B, 47th Infantry, which was stationed at Camp Gordon, Ga.

He left the states about the first of August and had been in several small battles when wounded. His wounds were not thought to be serious and he wrote home that he was getting well fast, so that he could go along with his company on a big drive, which was to take place soon.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Luibel, two sisters, Miss Helen at home, and Mrs. William McCullough of Springfield, four brothers, Frank and George of Springfield, Elmer of Memphis, Tenn., and William, who is now at Camp Jackson, S. C.

Private Klein was well known in Xenia and had many friends who will be sorry to hear of his death.

Cat Knocked at the Door.

May I tell how, a day or two ago, I saw a cat knock at the front door of a suburban villa and gain admittance? writes a correspondent of a London paper. It was a Persian, and, leaping to a ledge beside the door, he stretched out his paw and rattled the door knocker. There was no answer, and so the cat rattled again. Then the door opened, the cat jumped down and walked in, not without receiving a flick of disapproval from the busy housewife. She felt aggrieved that a cat should act so "Christianlike." "All very well in a circus, but in a private house!" she muttered, tucking the duster under her arm again.

Thousands upon thousands are taking Pepsinco, the marvel of the 20th century, because they could not eat a meal without distress, pain and a disagreeable bloating.

SPANISH INFLUENZA—JUST GRIP CAMOUFLAGED UNDER A NEW NAME

Most Authorities Now Agree That This Disease is Simply the Old-Fashioned Grip, the Same That Has Swept Over the World Times Without Number. Since 1831 the United States Has Had Five Epidemics.

The Last Epidemic in 1889-90 Came from Russia by Way of France and Was Given a French Name, La Grippe. This Time It Comes by Way of Spain.

ORIGIN OF THE DISEASE.
Spanish Influenza, which appeared in Spain in May, has swept over the world in numerous epidemics as far back as history runs. Hippocrates refers to an epidemic in 412 B. C., which is regarded by many to have been influenza. Every century has had its attacks. Beginning with 1831, this country has had five epidemics, the last in 1889-90.

THE SYMPTOMS.
Grip, or influenza as it is now called, usually begins with a chill followed by aching, feverishness and sometimes nausea and dizziness, and a general feeling of weakness and depression. The temperature is from 100 to 104, and the fever usually lasts from three to five days. The germs attack the mucous membrane, or lining of the air passages—nose, throat and bronchial tubes—there is usually a hard cough, especially bad at night, often times a sore throat or tonsillitis, and frequently all the appearances of a severe head cold.

THE TREATMENT.
Go to bed at the first symptoms—take a purgative, eat plenty of nourishing food, remain perfectly quiet and don't worry. Nature herself is the only "cure" for influenza and will throw off the attack if only you conserve your strength. A little Quinine, Aspirin or Dover's Powder may be given by the physician's directions to allay the aching. Always call a doctor, since the danger of grip is in its weakening effect on the system, which allows complications to develop. These are chiefly pneumonia and bronchitis, sometimes inflammation of the middle ear, or heart affections. For these reasons, it is very important that the patient remain in bed until his strength returns—stay in bed at least two days, or more after the fever has left you, or if you are over 50 or not strong, stay in bed four days or more, according to the severity of the attack.

EXTERNAL APPLICATIONS.
In order to stimulate the lining of the air passages to throw off the grip germs, to aid in loosening the phlegm and keeping the air passages open, thus making the breathing easier, Vick's VapoRub will be found effective. Hot wet towels should be applied over the throat, chest and back between the shoulder blades to open the pores. Then VapoRub should be rubbed in over the parts until the skin is red, spread on thickly and covered with a thickness of hot flannel cloth. Leave the clothing loose around the neck as the heat of the body liberates the ingredients in the form of vapors. These vapors, inhaled with each breath, carry the medication directly to the parts affected. At the same time, VapoRub is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, attracting the blood to the surface, and thus aids in relieving the congestion within.

NO OCCASION FOR PANIC.
There is no occasion for panic—influenza or grip has a very low percentage of fatalities—not over one death out of every four hundred cases, according to the N. C. Board of Health. The chief danger lies in complications arising, attacking principally patients in a run down condition—those who don't go to bed soon enough, or those who get up too early.

HOW TO AVOID THE DISEASE.
Evidence seems to prove that this is a germ disease, spread principally by human contact, chiefly through coughing, sneezing or spitting. So avoid persons having colds—which means avoid, roller towels, etc. Keep up your bodily strength by plenty of exercise in the open air, and good food.

KEEP FREE FROM COLDS.
Above all, avoid colds, as colds irritate the lining of the air passages and render them much better breeding places for the germs. Use Vick's VapoRub at the very first sign of a cold. For a head cold, melt a little VapoRub in a spoon and inhale the vapors, or better still, use VapoRub in a benzoin steam kettle. If this is not available, use an ordinary tea-kettle. Fill half-full of boiling water, put in half a teaspoon of VapoRub from time to time—keep the kettle just slowly boiling and inhale the steam arising.

NOTE—Vick's VapoRub is the discovery of a North Carolina druggist, who found how to combine, in salve form, Menthol and Camphor with volatile oils as Eucalyptus, Thyme, Cubeb, etc., so that when the salve is applied to the body heat, these ingredients are liberated in the form of vapors. VapoRub can be had in three sizes at all druggists. While comparatively new in certain parts of the North, it is the standard home remedy in the South and West for all forms of cold troubles—over six million jars were sold last year. VapoRub is particularly recommended for children's croup or colds, as it is externally applied and can, therefore, be used freely and often without the slightest harmful effects. adv

'READ' WAS LEFT OUT IN MISSING WORD CONTEST

Well, well, well. The Missing Word Contest, started in The Gazette and Republican last Wednesday is a huge success. It is a greater success than we had any idea it would be. We knew many would get after the word, but we had no idea that so many would start on this hunting trip. It seems answers have come to this office from every part of Greene county.

Some are asking if we are to publish a list of contestants. No there will be no publication of names, except the winners at the close of the contest. You will not know who your opponent is unless he or she tells you. "Is it too late to begin now?" It is not. The word was made extra easy last week, but you would be surprised to know how many missed getting the correct word. So you can start this week and be even with them. We miss our guess if any one gets over eight out of the thirteen weeks correct.

Notwithstanding the fact that we made the word last week very, very easy, yet there were many who did not find the word, but a great many did. But we want to say to those who did not find the word last week, don't get alarmed because you missed one, as those who found the word last week may fall down this of next week, and you may get it, so that will even matters up.

The word left out of an last week was "Read" and was omitted from The New Manhattan Ad., the well known restaurant, and was taken from between the words to and our.

Look at this ad and you will see the word put back in place, in heavy type.

Now this week we have replaced the word to its proper place. Now look it up for yourself. No one knows what the word removed each week is but the editor. He writes this word on a slip of paper and this is placed securely away in the safe and sealed in an envelope, to be kept until the end of the contest.

All the contestants look alike to

IMPRESSIVE SERVICE FOR MRS. E. J. KEYES

Numerous sorrowing friends attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Elyria J. Keyes, Tuesday afternoon, at 2:30, the services being held at the late home, on North Galloway street.

Rev. A. J. Kestle, pastor of the First M. E. Church, of which Mrs. Keyes was for many years a member, conducted the service, and spoke words of comfort to the attending friends and relatives. The floral emblems were many, friends from a distance testifying in part in this way to the esteem in which they held the deceased. The remains were laid to rest in Woodland cemetery, on the lot in which reposes the body of her husband, Gilbert B. Keyes, who died many years ago, and other relatives.

Those acting as bearers of the pall were the four sons of the deceased, Arthur, Edward, Frank and George, a grandson, Julian Keyes, and a nephew, D. L. Croy.

Among those from out-of-town attending the obsequies were: Dewitt Arnold, Mrs. Mary Powers, Mrs. Amelia Donson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Copenhaver of Dayton; Fred Arnold of Bellefontaine. The only daughter of the deceased, Mrs. Clara McDonald, of Clearwater, Florida, and a sister, Mrs. George Cretors, of Pittsburgh, were unable to be present on account of illness.

A rather unusual circumstance is that Mrs. Keyes, although 81 years of age, has an aunt and uncle, both of whom are past 85 years of age, and they were present at the funeral.

ELMER SHAFER RECOVERS FROM WOUNDED LEG

Although he was wounded, and is in a hospital, Private Elmer Shafer, Xenia had with the American Expeditionary Forces, writes the following cheerful letter to his wife in this city: Somewhere in France, October 16, 1918.

I thought I would write and tell you I got wounded. I got hit in the right leg on the 9th of October, and am in the hospital now, but am getting along fine and having a good time talking to the American nurses. (Ha! Ha!) Gee! you don't know how good it feels to get a chance to talk to an American woman. My leg is all O. K. now, and I think I will be back with my company in another week or two. Gee! this is some place. It's the nicest place I've seen since I came to France. I have nothing to do but sleep and eat so I think I will write a lot of letters and make up for lost time.

How is every one in old Xenia? I sure will be glad to get back there and just walk around for a while and see all my old friends. I think we will have peace before long and what a time we will have when we all get back. The Germans are just about ready to give up. Believe me, the old U. S. sure is driving them back and I know it can't last much longer.

I am going to write to dad and sis, and if I can think of anything to say I will write to the lodge, too, but you know me.

Now, don't worry for I am feeling fine and getting plenty to eat, and if I can eat you know I'm all O. K.

A. L. Paulson, M. "Merely get a small box of Orlex powder at any drug store. It costs very little and no extras to buy. Dissolve it in water and comb it through the hair. Full directions for mixing and use come in each box.

"You need not hesitate to use Orlex as a $100.00 gold bond comes in each box guaranteeing the user that Orlex does not contain silver, lead, zinc, sulphur, mercury, aniline, coal-tar products or their derivatives.

"It does not rub off, is not sticky, or greasy and leaves the hair fluffy. It will make a gray haired person look twenty years younger."

HOW TO FIGHT SPANISH INFLUENZA

By Dr. R. W. Bowers.

Avoid crowds, coughs and crows, but fear neither germs nor Germans! Keep the system in good order, take plenty of exercise in the fresh air and practice cleanliness.

Remember a clean mouth, a clean skin, and clean bowels are a protecting armor against disease. To keep the liver and bowels regular and to carry away the poisons within, it is best to take a vegetable pill every other day, made up of May-apple, aloes, jalap, and sugar-coated, to be had at most drug stores, known as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. If there is a sudden onset of what appears like a hard cold, one should go to bed, wrap warm, take a hot mustard foot-bath and drink copiously of hot lemonade. If pain develops in head or back, ask the druggist for Anuric (anti-uric) tablets. These will flush the bladder and kidneys and carry off poisonous germs. To control the pains and aches take one Anuric tablet every two hours, with frequent drinks of lemonade. The pneumonia appears in a most treacherous way, when the influenza victim is apparently recovering and anxious to leave his bed. In recovering from a bad attack of influenza or pneumonia the system should be built up with a good herbal tonic, such as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, made without alcohol from the roots and barks of American forest trees, or his Ironie (iron tonic) tablets, which can be obtained at most drug stores, or send 10c. to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package. adv

INFLUENZA, COLD PNEUMONIA, SORE THROAT

Yields Quickly to Antiseptic Oil Treatment.

Many are finding relief from Influenza, Colds, Sore Throat and perhaps preventing pneumonia, it is said, by the use of Miller's Antiseptic Oil (known as Snake Oil). Its great penetrating, pain relieving qualities insure almost instant relief when applied freely on the chest or throat, well greased when first symptoms arise. The oil penetrates through to the affected parts and tends to open up the air passages, making breathing more easy, relieving the pains. And for the cough a few drops on a little sugar usually brings prompt relief. Don't fail to have a bottle on hand when the attack comes on, and if used according to directions, results are assured, or your money refunded. On sale by Solin's Drug Store, Xenia, O. 20c, 60c and $1.00 bottles. adv

THE QUICK WAY TO STOP A COUGH

Druggists everywhere are authorized to refund money if SCHIFF-MANN'S EXPECTORANT is not found the very best ever used for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough or Hoarseness. When mixed at home with honey or sugar syrup, 50 cents worth makes 41 teaspoonfuls. Positively contains no chloroform, opium, morphine or any other narcotic, and is unlike any other cough medicine. It is so pleasant to take that children are fond of it. In case druggists should not have it order direct of R. J. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn. adv

WHAT SHOULD BE GER- MANY'S PENALTY FOR HER CRIMES?

The fact is just dawning upon the world, upon the United States and the allied capitals, that the sittings now in progress at Versailles, the capital of France, just outside Paris, may constitute the real Peace conference of the great world war.

It is for the Allied and American plenipotentiaries at Versailles to decide at this time whether there is to be peace or continued war. There will be no armistice with Germany until the eventual peace terms are agreed upon.

The real peace terms, or conference to fix the same, therefore, is to be made by the Allies and the United States. It is for them to take into full consideration existing aims and ideas, and to agree upon conditions which shall bring peace to the world. For, regardless of the name history may give it, the peace to be submitted to Germany will be a dictated peace. There is no thought that Germany will be sitting at the table where the terms of peace are really made, any more than at a trial of any criminal the prisoner should be a member of the jury. When it comes to a meeting of the Allied conferees with delegates from Germany, to sign up the peace papers, the proceedings will be brief.

There has been considerable talk as to where this final Peace table shall be held, if Germany does not unconditionally surrender before, and there have been indications that the Allies may consider that Washington City would be the most appropriate place, in order that President Wilson, who has been the chief mover in the peace conditions, may have a hand in the pie.

The world can rest assured, however, that when an armistice with Germany is declared, it will mean practically the end of the war. There will be left no opportunity for tricks or trades at the peace table. There will be no chance for a split between the Allied and American delegates named to meet with the Germans. All the vital proceedings will have been taken in advance.

There need be no alarm either that a dictated peace may not be a just and lasting peace. It will be a peace based on Allied and American justice, rather than the Teutonic conception of the terms "justice" and "honor."

A peace of justice, for instance, may hold to call for the yielding up to punishment of all persons who may be found guilty of having deliberately and wantonly violated the rules of civilized warfare. The British are insistent that the guilty Germans, whether their station be high or low, shall not escape the just punishment for their terrible crimes.

STOP THIEF!

The Germans are treating the occupied districts of Russia just as they treated the occupied districts of France and Belgium. Wherever they withdraw they leave desolation behind them. Anything that is portable they take, whether it be machinery or household goods, and what they cannot take they destroy.

Just what regions they are evacuating does not appear. The conditions on the western front are no doubt being more or less closely repeated on the eastern front. It is plain that a surrender to the Allies will leave Germany powerless in Russia as well. But she is making hay while the sun shines. According to a recent dispatch, there are no cattle or horses left in White Russia because the Germans have taken them all. There is no seed for new crops. There is no milk. Children are dying of starvation, and the beds to die on have been carried off. It is a distressing picture. And new strokes are being added to it at the very moment when the authors of the misery are whining for mercy!

First Fixed Ammunition.

In 1811, Gustavus Adolphus of Sweden, whose reign began in 1611, that history gives credit for the invention of fixed ammunition. In his cartridges the bullets and the charge were united in a paper case. It was not, however, until 1850 that the first successful metallic cartridge was patented by an American.

"THE WIFE"

BY JANE PHELPS

MRS. CLAYBORNE AT LAST DECIDES TO VISIT RUTH.

CHAPTER LXXXI.

All day Ruth thought of Brian's unappreciative remarks at the breakfast table. Often her eyes filled as she recalled the almost sneering tone in which he had belittled her work, and called her a "know-it-all" sort of person. Then, too, she had constantly in her mind that question:

Where had he spent the time after his lesson? Was it with Mollie King? And if it was, why didn't he tell her frankly? She never nagged, never scolded him, regardless of what he had said. Perhaps if she would scold once in a while, talk to him about his duty to her—the duty he owed his wife—he might do differently. But no sooner had the thought arisen, than it was dismissed. Brian would not be criticized. She must find some other way. But there was one thing she might do—propose to meet him after his lesson and have a little supper at some gay, inexpensive place. It would do them both good to go out, in that way, twice a week. Perhaps things were getting a bit monotonous for Brian.

It came to Ruth that somewhere she had read that, "A man will stand anything as long as he isn't bored." Was Brian becoming bored, and was that the reason he sought Mollie King? Mollie was bright, she was witty. Ruth acknowledged that in repartee she could not hold her own with the Greenwich Village girl. And then Mollie was so much more worldly wise. She knew her New York, and so many people whom Brian found interesting.

Yes, perhaps that was the trouble. Brian was bored. She must now find the solution. An antidote for Mollie King.

She did her work in an abstracted manner which caused Arthur Mandel to glance often in her direction. "Has her husband found fault with her for going to dinner with me?" he asked himself, and felt guilty, wondering if it were so and if he had caused her pain. He wished she would tell him. He couldn't fix his mind on his business while she looked so worried and anxious.

"Aren't you feeling well, Mrs. Hackett?" he finally could keep silent no longer. "I am sure you overtired yourself yesterday."

"No, indeed, I did not! and I feel perfectly well. I am trying to solve a puzzling question, and probably that made me look as if I were tired."

"Is it about the business, may I ask?"

"Yes—it is business," she answered, saving her conscience by saying to herself that "It WAS her business to keep her husband's love."

"Please do not look so anxious over it. If anything troubles you to that extent, take it to LaMonte or bring it to me."

"It's not so bad as that," she replied, wondering what Mandel would think, if he knew what it was over which she was worrying.

After this conversation, Ruth pulled her wandering thoughts back into line. She was a business woman. She must learn not to let anything, even Brian, to occupy her mind during the hours belonging to the firm. So for the rest of the day she was her natural busy, interested self; and Arthur Mandel smiled to think he had made such a mistake, and could not help a throb of pleasure at the thought of the earnest, personal way in which she had regarded some business matter of his.

When Ruth reached home, she found a letter from her aunt, Mrs. Clayborne. She had made up her mind to make her niece a short visit, and the letter announced she would arrive the following day.

"She's come around, at last!" Ruth told old Rachel, "I knew she would forgive me. She's so sensible about everything else."

"Don't be too sure, honey, she's forgiv' yo'. She's comin' to see how yo' is livin' and ef yo' is happy. I knows her I does."

"Now Mammy Rachel, don't you try to spoil my happiness. I am so glad she is coming. I haven't anyone else to visit me, you know. I never had many folks."

"Yo' got ole Rachel, ain't yo'? An' yo' husband?" she added, but in a different voice.

"Yes, and what should I do without you," she hugged the woman who had been so much to her always; and ignored the part of her speech referring to Brian. She knew only too well that her mammy's sharp eyes had detected her occasional unhappiness; and that she resented it. "But we mustn't talk! we must have everything lovely for her. I am so glad to-morrow is Friday. She won't get in until seven o'clock, so we can meet her, both of us—meaning Brian—and I will ask Mr. Mandel to let me off all day Saturday. Oh, Rachel, I so long to see her!"

When Brian came in, a moment later, he was astonished to see Ruth whisking Rachel around the dining room, both of them laughing gayly.

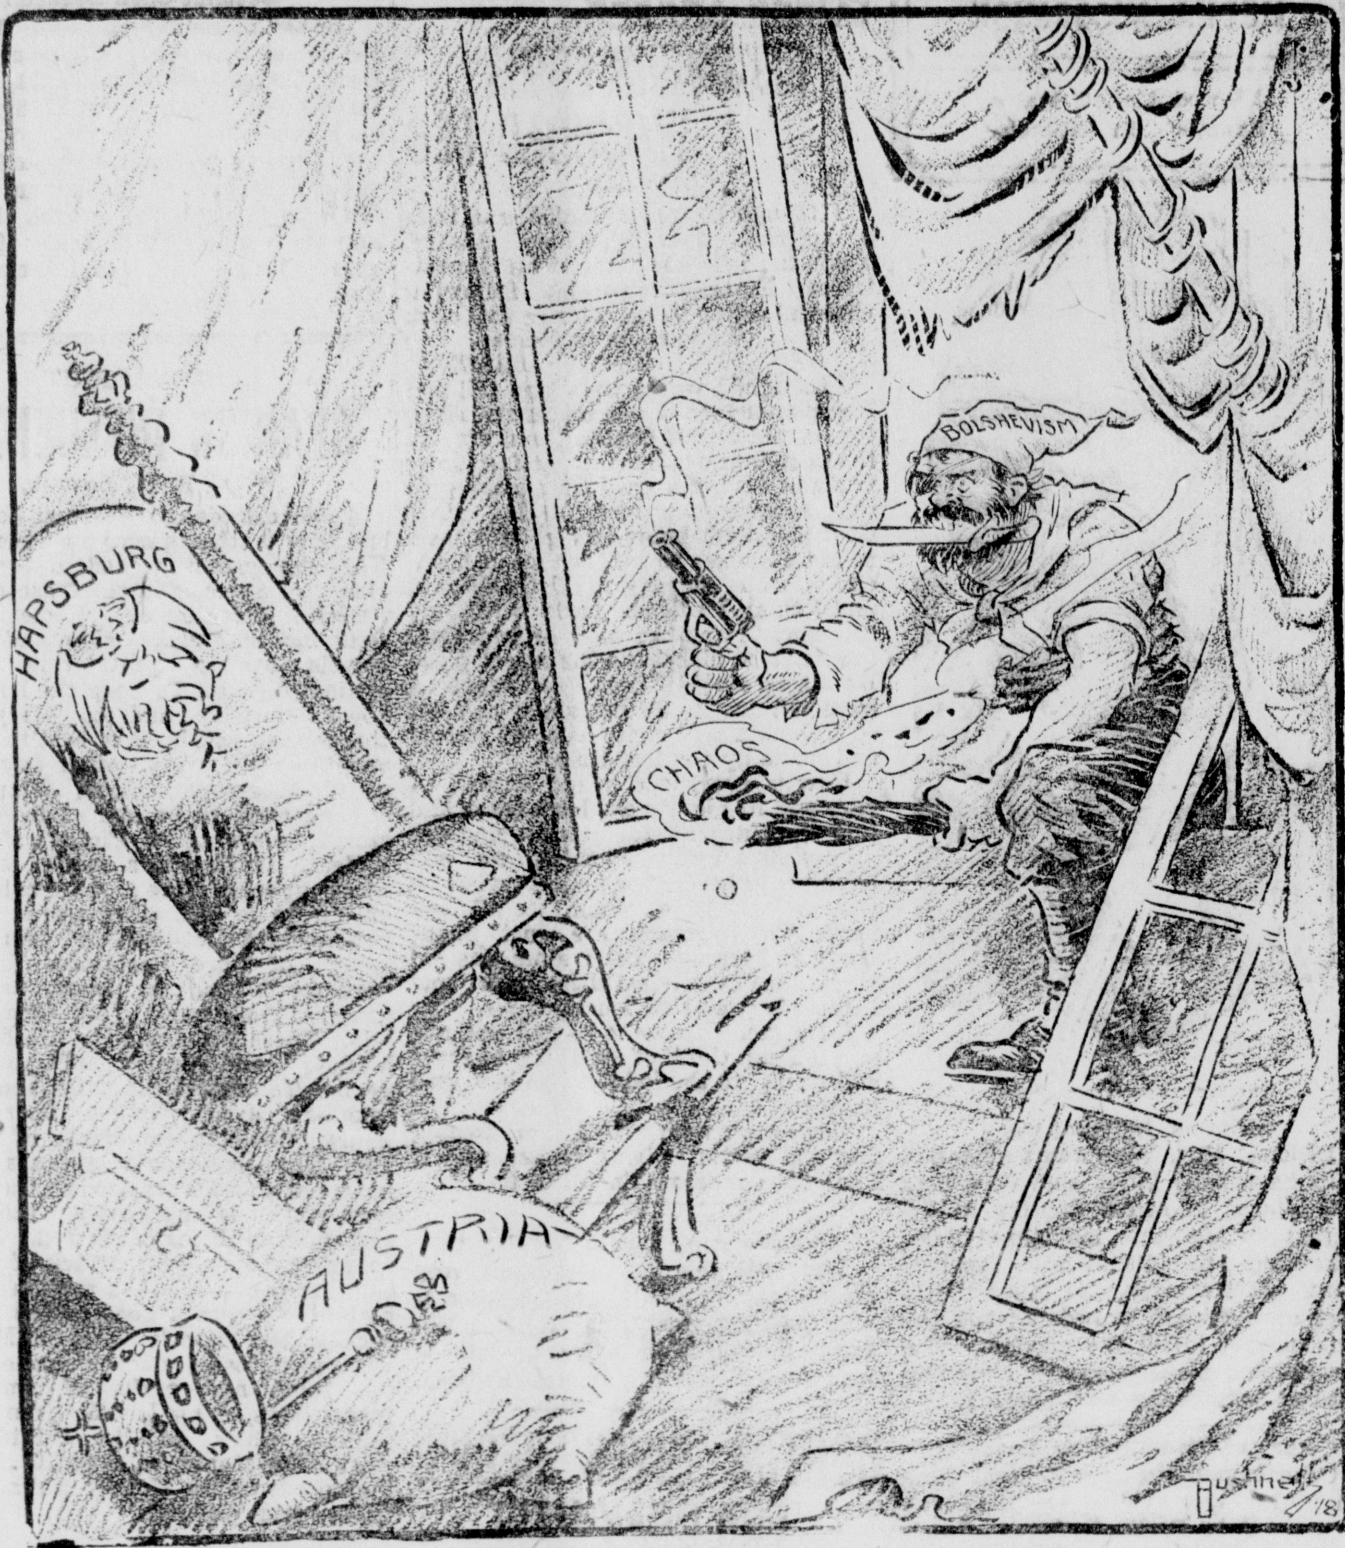

"Here you two dancing Derivishes. Stop that racket and tell me what's up!" he exclaimed.

Tomorrow—Ruth Plans For Her Aunt's Entertainment.

Figures Never Lie.

It is amazing, though, how much pointed figures can lend the imagination astray. One good lady came to sell a quite modern coffee pot, with the catalogue number, 1431, stamped on the bottom. Now, it might have been worth, perhaps, a dollar and a half, and she asked five hundred for it because it was made "before Columbus discovered America."—Alice Van Leer Carrick, in the House Beautiful.

IN AT THE FINISH

DR. J. R. MOTT ASKS FOR INCREASE IN WAR WORK FUND

We must not make the period of demobilization a period of demoralization, but a period of character building and growth in knowledge and vision, so that our boys will come back into the body politic as lifters, builders and leaders, not as an incubus or a handicap.

So declared Dr. John R. Mott, director general of the united war work campaign, in presenting to 125 representatives of 45 Ohio war chests, his appeal for 50 per cent increase over the quota originally asked of Ohio.

Dr. Mott said: "The period of armistice and demobilization must not be a period of demoralization. I don't fear for the boys when they face the enemy and death, but we must particularly stand by and help them when tension and discipline relaxes. It is during the leisure hours that the lapses, slips and wreckage among men occur."

Even if war were ended now, which it isn't, Dr. Mott declared, it will be a long time before the boys come home, and during all of which time they must be cared for physically, mentally, morally.

Australian commanders believe it will take them 18 months after the peace treaty is signed to get the boys home; Canadians, 15 months, and British 12 months, Dr. Mott said, adding that the United States cannot expect to accomplish it in less time.

He called attention to the fact that 41 per cent of the tonnage that took American troops to Europe was British, adding that immediately after the war much of this tonnage will have to be used for other purposes.

MONEY ORDERS WILL BE CASHED ON FIELD

"I wish you would make it clear that relatives and friends of United States soldiers can send money orders to them and that they will be receiving and paid by the army postoffice in the field," said Postmaster Rice today.

"As the Christmas packages are limited to three pounds persons who desire to send money orders with instructions to the soldiers as to what they should buy for their gifts. As the soldiers are moving from place to place there may be a slight delay but they will get the money orders. All that is necessary is for the soldiers to be identified by their officers."

Everyday Etiquette

"Is it wrong to lean one's elbow on the table?" asked Hazel.

"It is ungraceful and impolite to lean one's elbows on the table, and while it seems to be frequently done, it is a thing that should be discouraged," was her mother's answer.

A Man in the Making.

Figuring Weight of Ice.
A very close estimate of the weight of any block of ice may be ascertained by applying the following method: The volume of the ice in cubic inches is obtained by multiplying together the three dimensions. Dividing the product by 30 gives the weight of the ice in pounds. For instance, if the block is 10 by 10 by 12 inches, its volume is 1,200 cubic inches; dividing this product by 30 gives 40 pounds as the correct weight of the ice.—Popular Science Monthly.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores
Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

WASTE OF SUGAR

THE following bulletin was among the most forceful and effective bits of conservation propaganda at the New York Food Show last month. It was put out by the National Sugar Refining Company of New Jersey:

"Save the waste!"

"One hundred million cups coffee used daily in United States.

"Seventy million cups tea used daily in United States.

"One hundred and seventy million cups tea and coffee.

"If even an average of half a teaspoonful of sugar per cup is left undissolved at the bottom of cups of tea and coffee the waste would be 1,700,000 pounds of sugar daily.

"Stir your sugar until it dissolves. It's estimated that one-third to one-half of all sugars used in homes is used in tea and coffee. Think it over—how is it in your home? Isn't there a chance for saving?"

From New York Times
Sunday, September 29, 1918.

THREE POUNDS NOW TO EACH PERSON

Grocers may sell three pounds of sugar a month to each person in a customer's family, and may sell an entire month's allowance at one time. Doubt had been voiced by grocers as to the manner in which they may sell sugar, because of the sudden revision of the sugar rationing order by the National Food Administration last week.

ADAM'S EXPRESS CO. THING OF THE PAST

The offices and wagons of the thousands of express companies have all taken on new names within the past week. The local Adams Express Co. no longer exists, but in its place we now have "The American Railway Express Company." The window signs now carry the new name, and the wagons are being repainted and lettered accordingly.

What's a Feller to Do?
"It's a funny thing," observed the facetious philosopher, "my friend Jones says he isn't married because he can't afford a wife, and I can't afford a wife because I am married."

As Light Goes Through Glass

Just as light rays penetrate through glass, so current passes freely through Threaded Rubber Insulation. Nearly 200,000 tiny threads in each insulator mark the path for the current flow.

The hard rubber stands guard against the formation of short circuits between battery plates.

There's another reason why the Still Better Willard Battery with Threaded Rubber Insulation is worth so much more than its slightly higher cost. It's the one and only battery with the "Bone Dry" principle that is your absolute assurance of getting a battery as new as the day it left the factory.

We want you to know not only who we are, where we are located and what we are doing; but also about our teachers, our courses of study, our equipment, our ideals and what we are trying to do for this section of Ohio, in a musical way. An advertisement running 12 weeks as this will, gives us an opportunity for connected statement and we suggest that you cut out each week's "ad" and arrange them in their order. In these days of paper saving, bulky catalogues are an unpatriotic waste. These weekly "talks" will take their place and to all who send us a statement that they have saved all twelve "ads" we will send a colored picture of the interior of the "Conservatory." There will also be musical puzzles for the "kiddies" and other interesting features.

REPUBLICANS AND DRYS CARRY GREENE COUNTY— ORDINANCES WIN OUT

With more than 500 less votes cast for head of the ticket than were polled in 1916, Greene County gave Frank B. Willis for governor of Ohio, almost the same majority as it rolled up for him over James M. Cox, two years ago.

With the splendid vote cast for the Republican candidate for governor, Greene county also rolled up a handsome plurality for the prohibition amendment, exceeding the majority polled for prohibition in Greene county in 1917, by nearly 300 votes.

Willis polled a total of 4,158 in the county, against 2,295 cast for James M. Cox, present governor. In 1916, Greene county gave Willis 4,703 votes, while Cox polled 2,719 votes.

The Greene county vote on the prohibition amendment was 3,534, yes and 2,122 no, a plurality in favor of the amendment of 1,412. The gain over the dry vote as cast in 1917 was 298, Greene county having given 3,794 votes in favor of the amendment a year ago, when 2,680 votes were cast against it. The gain in the dry sentiment is notable and was apparent in most of the counties known as "rural counties," throughout the state, this fact helping to put the amendment "over the top."

Congressman S. D. Fess, chairman of the Republican National Congressional Committee, candidate for reelection to the House of Representatives from the seventh congressional district, polled 2,157 more votes in Greene county than did his Democratic opponent, George H. Thorne of Bellbrook, who is a lawyer in the Department of Justice at Washington, D. C.

Congressman Fess had been so busy obtaining results on the national election for representatives and senators that up to 10:30, Wednesday morning, he had made no attempt to get any returns from the district upon his own election. There was no doubt, however, of his return to congress by a large majority.

F. C. Barrett, Republican, of Washington, C. H., is returned to the State Senate from the fifth-sixth district without opposition, and W. B. Bryson, Republican, running without opposition, will again represent Greene County in the General Assembly.

Mr. Bryson's vote was 3,990.

Greene county gave a majority to each of the amendments to the constitution, with the exception of that for classification of personal property, which was defeated in the county by a small vote.

The referendum was favored by Greene county voters, who gave it a total of 2,716 votes, while 2,114 were cast against it. The amendment providing for the passage of laws against double taxation carried by a plurality of over 300, there being 2,850 votes cast in its favor and 2,474 against the amendment.

Xenia Favors Prohibition.

Xenia city's vote on the prohibition amendment was favorable, the city casting 903 votes in favor of the amendment, while there were 683 wet votes in the city. The vote for prohibition in Xenia city in 1917 was 1,376 for and 927 against.

The city gave Willis 1,268 votes, against 760 votes for Governor Cox polled in the city precincts.

The entire Republican ticket carried. E. E. Lighthiser, who was defeated for the Republican nomination for sheriff at the primary, and who ran as an independent candidate at Tuesday's election, asking voters to write his name in on the ballot, did not poll a sufficient number of votes to make his candidacy worry L. L. Funderburg, the present deputy sheriff.

There was a Democrat and a Prohibition county ticket in the field, also.

Vote on the judicial ticket in Greene county favored Robinson and Wanamaker for supreme court. The vote cast for judges was: Crow, 2,534; Newman, 2,144; Robinson, 2,484 and Wanamaker 2,527.

Returns Are Slow.

Although the vote was light, returns were slow and late in being received Tuesday night. This was due to the number of ballots, and the scratching of tickets which was freely indulged in by the voters.

Election officials in the precincts were instructed by the Board of Elections to count the state ticket and the vote on the amendments and report to the headquarters of the board over the telephone as soon as possible. While many followed these directions, a number failed to do so, and as they could not be reached over the telephone, the vote in those precincts was not received until Wednesday morning.

When the board adjourned after midnight, there were still ten precincts to be heard from on head of the ticket.

City precincts were as slow in making their returns as were the country precincts. It was nearly two hours after the polls closed before returns on the head of the state ticket were announced by the first precinct reporting.

Xenia's interest in the vote on the sidewalk and awning ordinances found it necessary to wait until late in the evening before there were sufficient returns to show the trend of the vote, as these tickets were among the last counted.

The slowness of returns was apparent all over the county, making election reports late.

ORDINANCES WIN OUT.

With every precinct in the city, except "G" in the East End, showing a comfortable lead, the awning and sidewalk ordinances carried by an overwhelming majority.

The ordinance providing for the removal of all "shed" awnings received a total vote in the city as follows:

Precinct	AWNING		SIDEWALK
	For	Against	For	Against
A	122	49	137	61
C	125	59	157	61
D	171	80	194	82
E	147	78	163	84
F	105	74	123	77
G	38	89	49	107
H	25	30	23	30
Totals	851	530	990	588

walk ordinances carried by an overwhelming majority.

The ordinance providing for the removal of all "shed" awnings received a total vote in the city as follows:

For—851 and against—530. A majority of 321.

The ordinance compelling the clearing of sidewalks carried by 402, the vote being, For—990 and Against—588.

Precinct "G" polled a vote of 38 for and 89 against the awning ordinance and the sidewalk ordinance received a vote of 49 for and 107 against.

Ordinances 38 and 39, passed by the new City Commission, some weeks ago, to control the awnings and sidewalks of the city, were put to a referendum vote by those opposed to this new legislation, and their passage by such a handsome majority is considered by many as a complete vindication of the new Commission form of Government and the present commissioners, who enacted the new laws for the city, and shows how the majority of the citizens feel in the matter. At the close of the campaign bitter personal fight centered in the ordinance referendum, and the final vote was expected to forecast the future of the commission-manager form of government of Xenia.

Special Levies Carry

Special tax levies which were voted upon by the people of Jamestown, Cedarville and Bellbrook Tuesday, all carried.

Two levies in Jamestown, one of three mills for providing for additional school funds, and one for a levy of one and one-tenth mills for providing a fund for lighting the streets by electricity, were given good majorities. Both are for a period of five years.

Cedarville voted 123 to 59 in favor of two mills for lighting the streets with electricity, and Bellbrook gave a vote of 51 for and 25 against a tax levy for the public service fund.

Lights and the Color Scheme.

Did you ever wish that you could get electric light bulbs to match the color scheme of your room? If so, you may be glad to know, if you have not already discovered the trick for yourself, that you may color them at home to suit your own taste. It is very simple. Just buy some good water-color paints, a soft brush and set to work. You may paint them any shade that you desire, and get a lovely effect of softened light through the painted glass. For instance, if your living room is done in shades of brown and yellow, you can get a beautiful sunshiny light through bulbs painted a delicate yellow.

REPUBLICANS CARRY HOUSE AND SENATE

Congressman S. D. Fess, chairman of the Republican national committee, who received long distance telephone reports from every part of the country upon the national election, said shortly before noon Wednesday that Republicans will control the House of Representatives by 50, and will have a majority of from two to six in the Senate.

"It is a wonderful victory," he said. More so because of the personal appeal made by President Wilson, for the election of a Democratic House and Senate, and because never before in history has there been a change in the legislature in time of war.

"The government seeking to perpetuate itself, and everybody from the president down to the door keeper at the White House made an appeal for this purpose.

"McAdoo as head of the railway system made an appeal; Skelton Williams, head of the banks made an appeal; Hoover made an appeal; Gompers made an appeal to the laboring men. It is a wonderful achievement for us, in the face of this most remarkable effort made by the administration to perpetuate itself."

Congressman Fess talked Tuesday night and Wednesday morning over long distance telephone to New York city, Washington, Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha, Minneapolis, Pittsburgh, Louisville, and other important cities, securing a later and more accurate report than could be compiled from press dispatches.

He was jubilant over the achievement of the Republican party.

CONGRESSIONAL FIGHT MAKES FEW CHANGES

In the contest for the House of Representatives the Republicans appear to have lost the seat held by Stafford of Wisconsin to Victor Berger, the socialist who is under indictment for violating the espionage law, but seem to have gained 24 seats elsewhere.

Gains by the Democrats in the lower house included five from New York, two in New Jersey and one in Massachusetts.

Later reports may add to either side, as there are several districts in dispute, but on the latest figures the Republicans seem to be assured of the control of the lower house.

In the senate fight the Republicans held doubtful states which were Rhode Island, West Virginia, South Dakota and Nebraska.

While New Jersey does not show as a gain for the Republicans in the senate, one of the seats to which Baird and Edge, Republicans have been elected for the short and long terms respectively, was that which was held by William Hughes, Democrat, made vacant by his death.

In New York, the governorship is so close that the soldier vote, yet to be counted, may be the deciding factor.

COURT NEWS

Samuel Dudley, indicted for horse stealing, and Kenneth Claar, indicted for the theft of an automobile belonging to Daniel Donavin, entered pleas of guilty when arraigned before Judge C. H. Kyle, Wednesday morning, and were given indeterminate sentences of from one to fifteen years. Dudley was sentenced to the penitentiary, and Claar, who is under 30 years of age, was sentenced to the Mansfield reformatory.

Dudley's apprehension, indictment and sentence is unusual for disband. Dudley was arrested by Sheriff Jackson Saturday night, while he was making way with a horse and buggy he had stolen from a rack in Xenia. He was bound over to the grand jury, Tuesday morning, indicted the same morning, entered his plea of guilty and was sentenced Wednesday.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast if your back hurts or bladder bothers you.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy; full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief 2 or 3 times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

THREE GENERATIONS OF WOMEN

For three generations women of this country have used and recommended to their children and children's children the use of that famous old root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, until today it is recognized everywhere as the standard remedy for woman's ills. It contains no narcotics or harmful drugs; is made from roots and herbs of the field under the most sanitary condition, and any woman suffering from such ailments should be sure to give it a trial. adv

Brain Memories. Every activity, every experience is registered in the brain as a memory, conscious experiences as conscious memories, unconscious experiences as unconscious memories. And the conscious memories which disappear, things forgotten, are still retained as unconscious memories. If we think of the great number of things that we experience unconsciously for instance, how many people we see and do not remember the next moment, and the still greater number that we remember for a while and then forget, it will be apparent what great quantities of unconscious memories are stored away in the dim depths of our minds. Some of them it is difficult to recall, but more cannot consciously be recalled at all.
